Location & Description

A traditional public house The New Inn comprises three ground floor trade rooms, plus kitchen & toilets having public entrances front and rear with cellars, and private living quarters over.

Set back from the highway behind a cobbled forecourt the property enjoys the benefit of external space including west facing terrace to side with long rural views.

To the rear the former car park offers excellent amenity space, also being potentially suitable for alternative use/development (subject to availability of appropriate consents).

The property is situated in wholly residential surroundings a short distance to the East of the main A56 (Skipton – Colne) through route – a popular location in attractive surroundings, and within easy reach of local amenities.
